About Monitor Computer Systems

Monitor Computer Systems Ltd. has been a premier supplier of alarm monitoring systems to the UK market and abroad since its founding in 1984. Their customers include major security companies, local authorities, telecom companies, and financial institutions. Currently, around 600,000 live signaling systems are monitored with relevant British, European and US standards using the software provided by Monitor Computer Systems.

Sentinel: An Innovative Alarm Monitoring Software

Sentinel provides all the services needed to help alarm and video monitoring centers win and grow their business.

- A wide range of integrations that support most alarm signalling, CCTV, lone worker and tracking protocols
- A single platform for all services
- A web portal to allow your customers to view, report and manage their own customers and engineers
- A billing module to detect automatically all chargeable services, create accurate invoices and email them directly to the customer
- A smart phone interface for engineers and end-users

Dahua & Monitor Computer Systems

The Sentinel platform is integrated with Dahua video systems, supporting NVR/XVR and Network Camera devices. This collaboration allows the implementation of the latest cloud features within Dahua's high quality video solution products. Dahua and Monitor Computer Systems has been cooperating together since 2013, promoting a smarter and safer living in the UK. This integration has allowed both parties to further develop their technological capabilities and bring more value to their customers.
